Dear Becky,

This is one time since we have been friends that I can't find words to say what your friendship has meant to me all these years. We have had our ups & downs, but usually we got them straightend out. Some of my best & happiest times were spent being with you. We have really had some good times together especially at the "Rock'n Roll Shows, at the "Y.M.C.A." and "Ketners" (always remember L.H.S.).

Becky you can always brighten up the place with your silliness. You are always cracking a funny.

Becky at Millie has already said you are one that you can tell your troubles too.

You are one that I can never forget. You have a wonderful personality and you are a very sweet and nice person. Always stay that way and you will always have friends. I hope we can always be friends and will have loads of fun to come. The very best to a sweet girl. May God be with you in everything you do. You deserve the best life can offer.

Love ya lots (always)

Wanda Kay

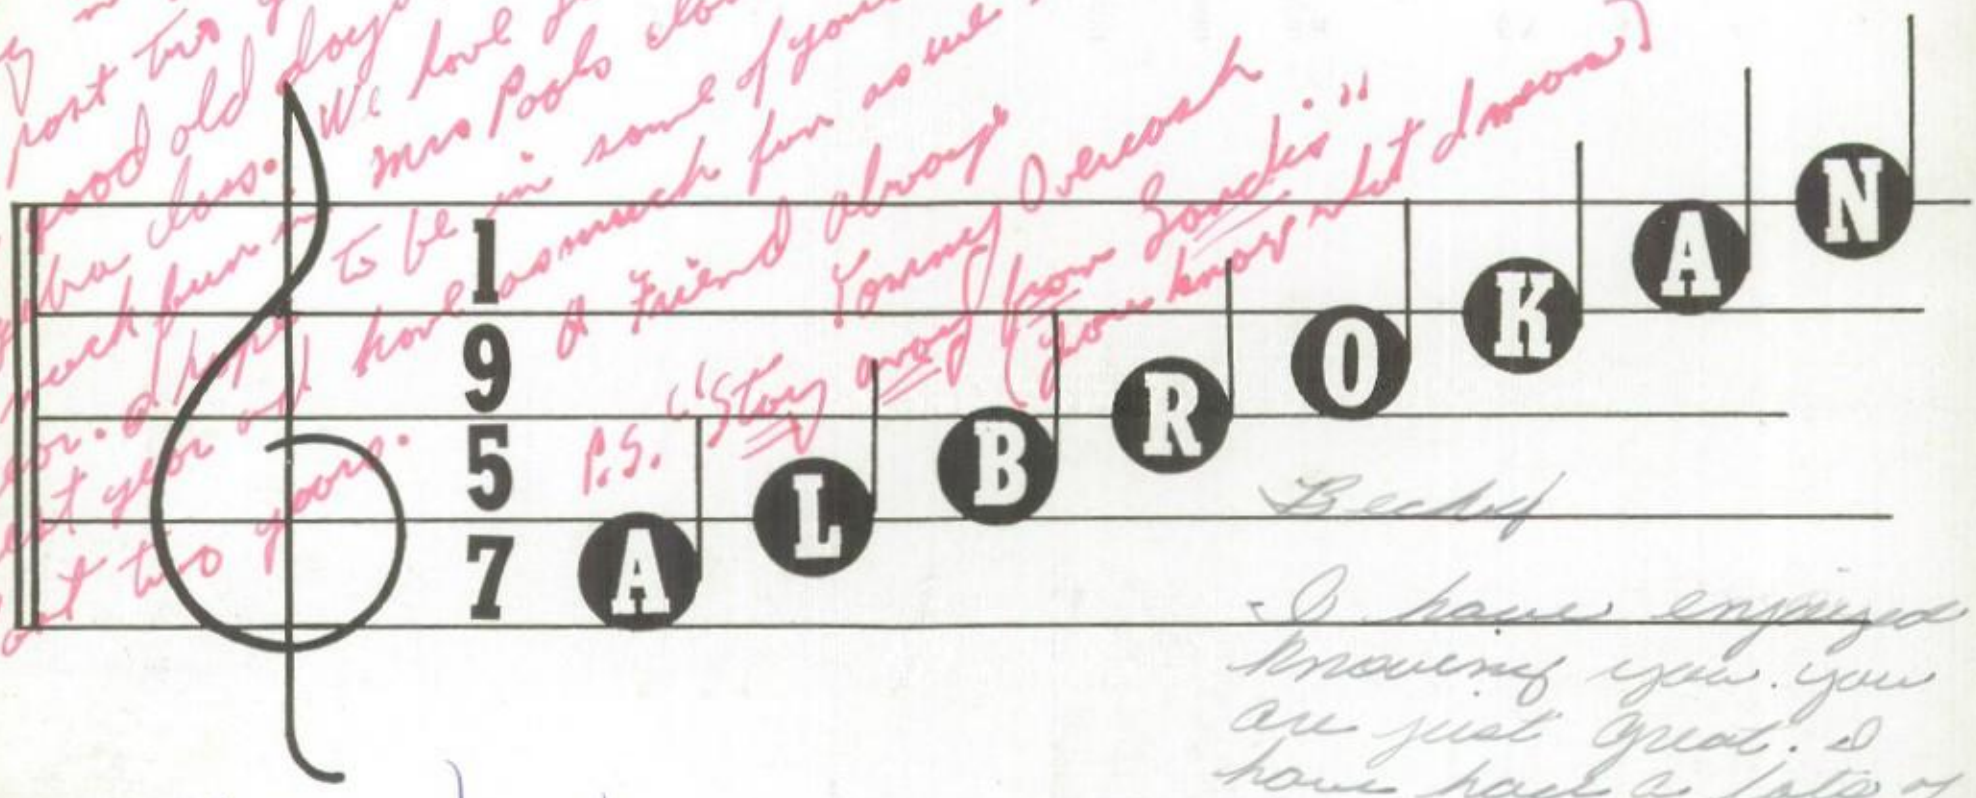
. . . . TO THE TUNE OF



FOREWORD

Each day these walls and corridors ring with melodies as they bring to us the joys and happiness, tears and sorrow, that these wonderful school days have given us.

The tempo seemed slow in starting, but soon we found it building into a mighty crescendo—GRADUATION! Each measure brought new emotions; but no matter how happy or sad, our symphony would not have been complete without them.

Will you listen as our Maestro plays the refrains that have blended together our 1957 ALBROKAN.

Becky,
I really have enjoyed knowing you this year. We have really had some good times in study hall. I hope to see you next year. Best of luck in the future.

SO LONG, BROWN HIGH

Now the problems and the trials
Of our high school days are through,
And a new, exciting future
Marches full within our view.

The memories of joys we've known
Throughout these sheltered years
Rise quickly to occasion
And dim each eye with tears.

A dear friend's face across the stage
A teacher's friendly smile
The homework and the Junior trip—
We cherish every mile . . .

Now, the singing of the class song
Adds new and somber notes
A small, unnoticed sob escapes
From our unguarded throats.

We say, "So long, dear B. H. S."
And know it's not "Good-bye."
"We'll visit in a little while;
We love you so, Brown High."

CLASS HISTORY

MARGARET CHRISTY
Historian

As I sit here in this old rocking chair, my hair a silver grey and my face well furrowed with wrinkles, I live in a world of the past. Looking out of the window I see high school students coming home after a fruitful day at school. This truly brings memories to my mind.

How well I remember those days as the class of 1957 took the position as leaders in Cannon Junior High School. Our first real year as high school students, full-fledged freshmen, we with much pride held the key to the executive branch of the student body. Yes, Charles Alexander was President with Ted Hendrix serving as Vice-President. Council Representatives from our class were Patsy Carter, Linda King, Glenn Waller, and Kenneth Blackwelder.

Nancy Pinkston reigned over the school as Christmas Queen. Another exciting event that year was "Kalico Kapers" with Pat Harrison as Queen.

Abilities and ambition were greatly displayed even though we were quite young. Arlene Edwards and Becky Foil were co-editors of the school paper, Cannon Spotlight. Arlene also served as school critic.

Time passed quickly but our first year in high school seemed to break the speed limit. It seems like yesterday that we as new sophomores were invited to a social welcoming us to Brown High. We were not so sure that we wanted to be underclassmen after having been leaders for a whole year. The building was so tempting and the upperclassmen were not reallly monsters, so we quickly adjusted ourselves to the new surroundings.

The year had hardly begun when we found ourselves electing class officers under the directions of Miss Merle Etta Lancaster, our adviser. Again Charles Alexander was elected President with Ted Hendrix assisting him. Margaret Shelton was our new Secretary with Lloyd Bost Treasurer. To serve as Council Representatives were Arlene Edwards and Glenn Waller.

With these leaders that year got off to a good start. The first project we undertook was the annual candy sale. Many prizes were awarded with Mildred Ketner taking top honors for high sale. We also sold rat poison, household deodorizers and insect killer.

"Hold High the Torch," the theme of an inspiring assembly program, focused a ray of recognition on the sophomore class that year. Arlene Edwards, Mildred Ketner and Charles Alexander were tapped into the National Honor Society. The Key Club also received Charles Alexander into their organization. We seemed to be finally making a place for ourselves with these people we chose as leaders paving the way.

With another year coming to a close new Student Government officers were elected. Charles Alexander was elecetd secretary and Larry Benson, treasurer.

The fall of '55 found us as "old-timers" around Brown High. We had so much for which to look forward. With Mr. Boone and Miss Cook as our advisers we were once more on the road called "Progress." Class officers were elected in order to get another year rolling. Taking the President's chair was David Alabran. Larry Sloan took the next chair as Vice-President with Secretary and Treasurer, Mildred Ketner and Margaret Shelton, respectively. As Council Representatives we elected Nancy Myers and Glenn Waller.

Soon Larry Benson announced that he was moving and would be forced to resign as Student Government Treasurer. Succeeding him was Kenneth Wagoner.

A magazine sale and, of course, the junior class play "Stage Door" with Nancy Myers, George Wiseman, and David Alabran taking the leading roles were two projects we successfully completed.

Honors came in showers to many deserving students that year. Tapped into the National Honor Society were Beckie Hinson, Tommy Moore, Grace Huffman, David Alabran, Larry Sloan, and Melvin Rape. Accepted into the Key Club were Melvin Rape, Jimmy Parker, Kenneth Duncan, Ted Overcash, and David Alabran. For their outstanding work in the field of journalism, the Quill and Scroll honored Arlene Edwards, Patsy Carter, Phyllis Blanton, Elaine Helms, Mildred Ketner, and Margaret Christy. Welcomed into the National Thespian Society for their work in dramatics were David Alabran, Grady Armstrong, Ruth Austin, Keith Baker, Aubrey Brakefield, June Carter, Margaret Christy, Becky Jo Deaver, Kenneth Edwards, Carol Foster, Elaine Helms, Billie Howard, Marilyn Huffstetler, Jimmy Johnson, Nancy Lomax, Nancy Myers, Evelyn Rowland, Margaret Shelton, Kenneth Wagoner, and George Wiseman.

This was the year. Yes, we placed on the third finger of our right hand a class ring, symbolizing much hard work and happiness.

The next important event that will always dwell in our hearts was the magnificent Washington trip. The glorious scenes with the towering buildings fascinated us as we gazed upon the tiny part of America that seemed to have outstretched arms. We felt very fortunate to be the first class from Kannapolis to actually witness the Supreme Court in action. From the packing of our clothes until the return trip home we bubbled with excitement. What joy our hearts knew!

With the Washington trip tucked safely away in our minds we faced the loaded, remaining weeks of school for that term. Under the direction of Co-Chairmen Beckie Hinson and Jimmy Parker we began preparing for the Junior-Senior Prom. "Carrousel" was the theme, with decorations overflowing with splendor, carrying it out to the heights of all our expectations.

Opportunities were unlimited during that year of high school. Elsie Payne received a trip to Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, for the "Freedom's Foundation Principal's Award" presentation. Grace Huffman, who won the United Nation's Essay Contest, was given a trip to New York and Washington. Awaiting Sara Murray during the coming summer was a trip to the United Nations Building as the result of a contest sponsored by the Odd-Fellows.

With the year coming to an end there was the important election of the Student Government officers. Taking the top position was Charles Alexander as President. Elected as as Vice-President was Kenneth Wagoner. Co-editors of the Brown Highlights and ALBROKAN staff for the approaching year were Patsy Carter and Arlene Edwards.

A very important part of school life is the school spirit, and our high school days were no exception. We felt very proud as Buddy Bost, who had been in the cheerleading line all year, was made chief for the coming year. Assisting him from the rising senior class were Bill Wilson, Beckie Hinson, Billie Howard, and Carl Richardson.

After all those years my heart still beats a little faster as I remember the graduating class just ahead of us with our own classmates serving as marshals. Selected on the basis of scholarship for this honor were Charles Alexander, Joyce Garrett, Yvonne Cleary, Gail Langston, Becky Foil, Loretta Hurst, Arlene Edwards, Mildred Ketner, Barbara Bolick, Beckie Hinson, Shirley Kelly, Grace Huffman and Carol Smith.

In the fall of 1956 we, as dignified seniors and leaders, entered A. L. Brown High School, for the last year. Our class advisers were Miss Gray and Mr. Van Poole. In the President's chair to guide us during this period of time was Kenneth Duncan. Keith Baker was our Vice-President. Our Secretary was Nancy Myers with Melvin Rape as Treasurer. Carol Foster served as Class Chaplain and Social Chairman was Margaret Shelton. The positions of Council Representatives were filled by Grace Huffman and Larry Sloan. Two new places were added to the council. Filling them were Joyce Bost as Class Poet and Margaret Christy, Historian.

"To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield" was the motto that we selected to take us, not only through that senior year of high school, but through life. Royal blue and silver were chosen as class colors with the delicate gardenia as class flower. The petite mascots on which we prided ourselves were Deborah Hubbard and Gwin Hilton.

Grace Huffman provided the school with a glow of pride as she represented our school in the Carrousel in Charlotte. She also made a very good showing in the local parade, receiving top honor with the title "Miss Merry Christmas." Reigning over the annual Homecoming was Beckie Hinson. Another honor, "Miss High Miss," which is based on character, scholarship and beauty was presented to Beckie Hinson. She was elected by the senior class.

Accepted into the Key Club were Larry Sloan, Tommy Moore, Eugene Massey, Kenneth Clayton, Sandy Woodard and Keith Baker. As time passed new members were accepted into other honor clubs with our classmates receiving much glory.

Sports were a major part of those high school days. The most outstanding trophy, the "Lug Leezer Award" was received by Keith Baker and Conrad Sloop was given the Bond's Trophy.

How well I remember at that time the excitement of the future stadium. We worked so hard having cake sales, talent shows, and personal contributions with the wonderful dream of the stadium in the back of our minds. The senior class gift of approximately five hundred dollars was also presented to that all important cause.

How packed that year was with Senior Day, Senior-Junior prom, the class play, class night, and of course, all the rehearsing in preparation for the big day, graduation. Enthusiasm and a pang of sentiment gave us a mixed-up feeling as we approached the threshold to a future of our own.

How happy those days were. How wonderful it is to think back over them and know that they will never die, but will live on and on in the hearts of the class of '57.

Well, here it is long past my bed time, yet after thinking over all those days so long ago I doubt that I will go to sleep for hours. I wonder if any of my classmates ever go through evenings like this. What wealth we possess in memories that never a thief could steal.

Miss Hi Miss

Beckie Hinson

Basing their selection on leadership, scholarship, character, and personality, the senior class chose as Miss Hi Miss, Miss Beckie Hinson. Beckie was the guest of Winthrop College in Rock Hill, South Carolina, this spring and received recognition in a special edition of "The Johnsonian," Winthrop's school newspaper.

Miss Brown High

Grace Huffman

Because of her beauty, poise and personality, the senior class selected Miss Grace Huffman as Miss Brown High. Grace represented Kannapolis at the Carrousel in Charlotte, and the Kannapolis and Concord parades.

Special honor came to Grace when she was selected from other high school beauties by the Merchants' Association as Miss Merry Christmas.

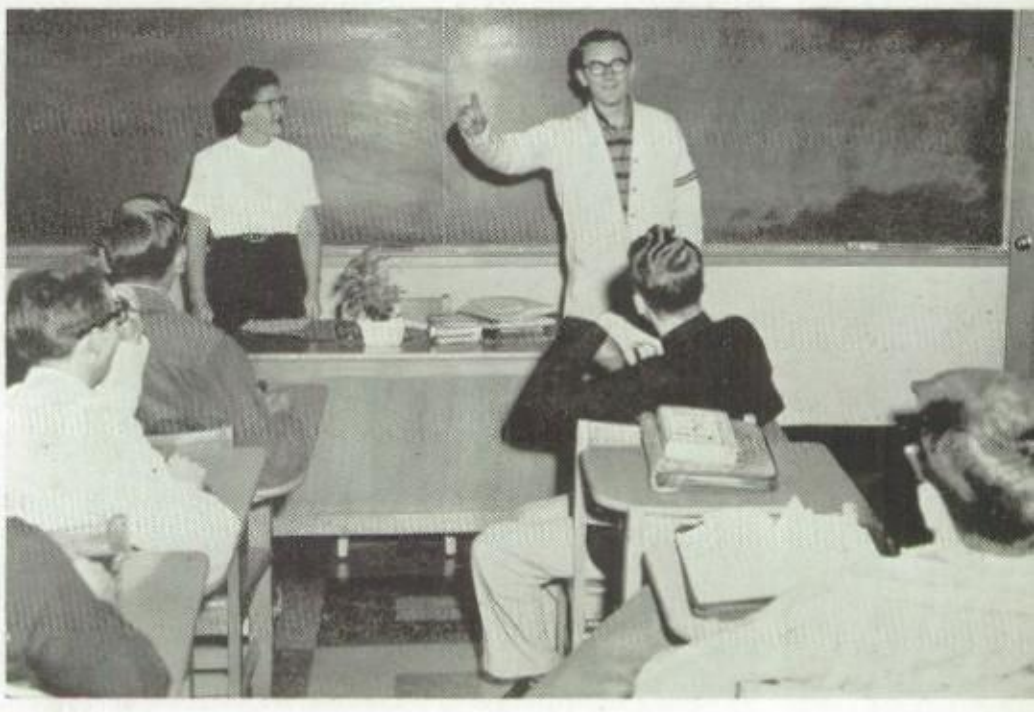
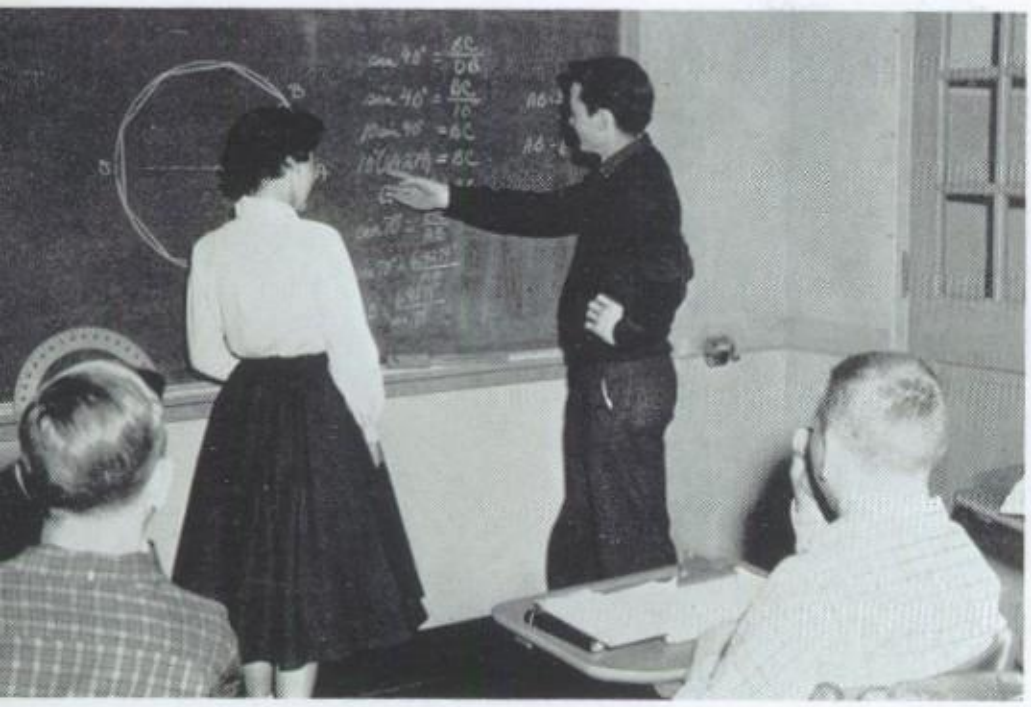
ENGLISH

ME THOUGHT me heard a voice cry, "Sleep no more." This is taken from Macbeth but should definitely apply to these senior students. They'll be hard at work for a while studying such things as Macbeth and the Canterbury Tales.

EXPLORING THEIR ENGLISH IN ACTION books these sophomores, hard at work, are learning valuable things. The second semester studies may turn them to literature, there to have them read well-known stories, poems, and possibly essays.

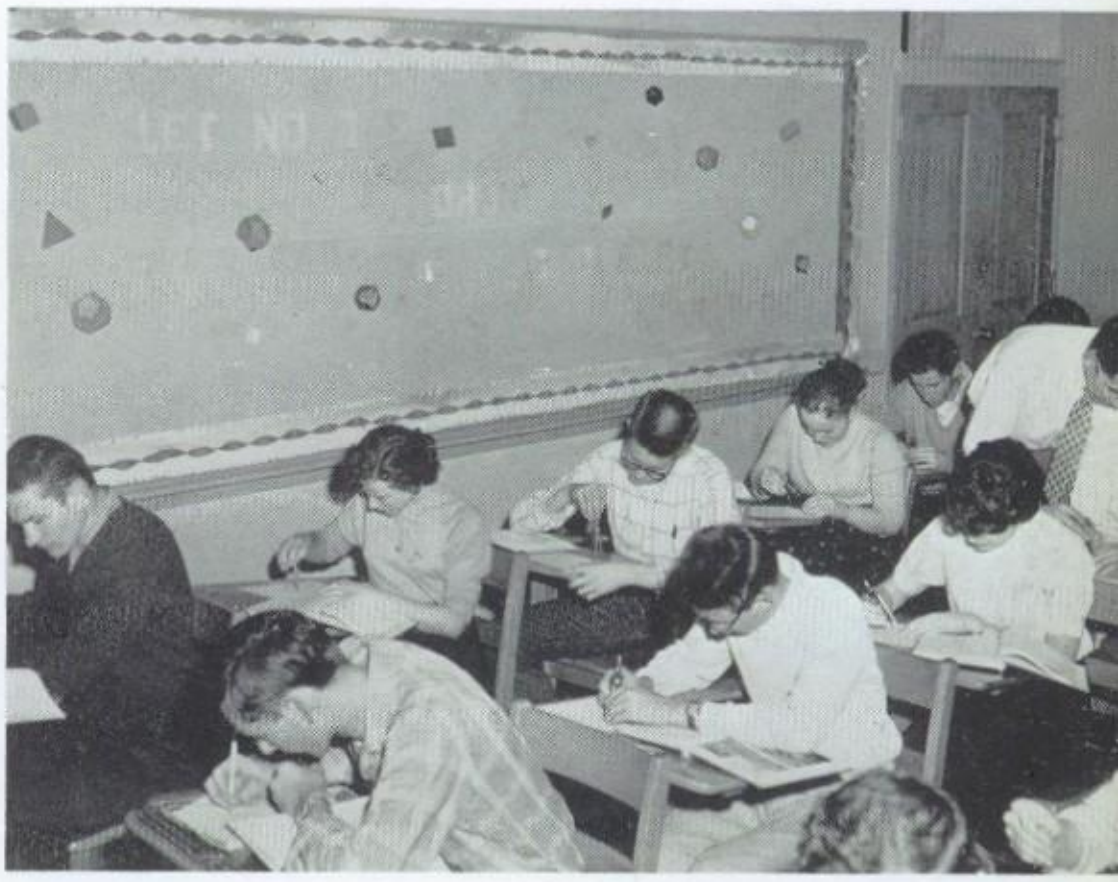
"NOW MY OPINION IS . . . Give me liberty or give me death." If they keep it up maybe they'll soon be as good as Patrick Henry himself. This subject, added to the curriculum for the first time this year, proved to be a popular class; and boy, do they love to make speeches!



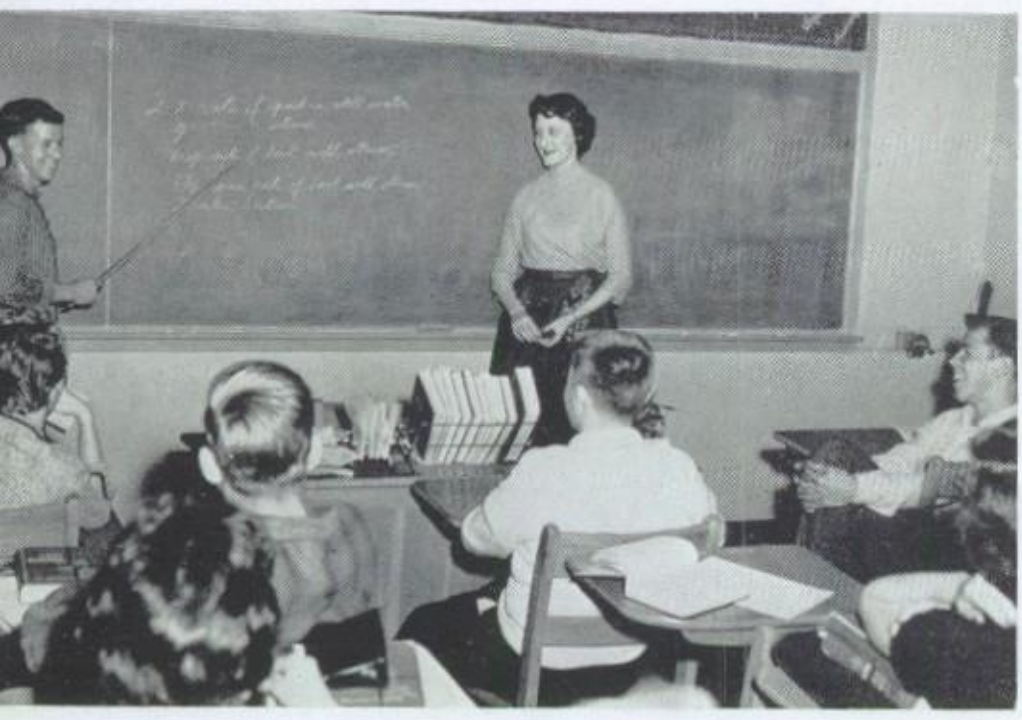


MATH

"DO NOT DISTURB . . . genius at work!" It takes master minds to compete with this monstrous subject. Trigonometry, solid geometry and advanced algebra all bundled up in one fat subject is offered to daring seniors.



ROUND AND ROUND AND ROUND HE GOES. Battling it out in this plane geometry class are a few brave souls with much determination. The bulletin board "Let no one ignorant of geometry enter here" is a good thought, but it takes a lot of hard work for the students to live up to this statement.



THAT'S THE WAY IT GOES in the algebra classes. This two unit course is a required one for most students or those who plan to go to college. These second year mathematicians must have stumbled across something that needed a little explanation. That's the way to learn anyhow.

HISTORY

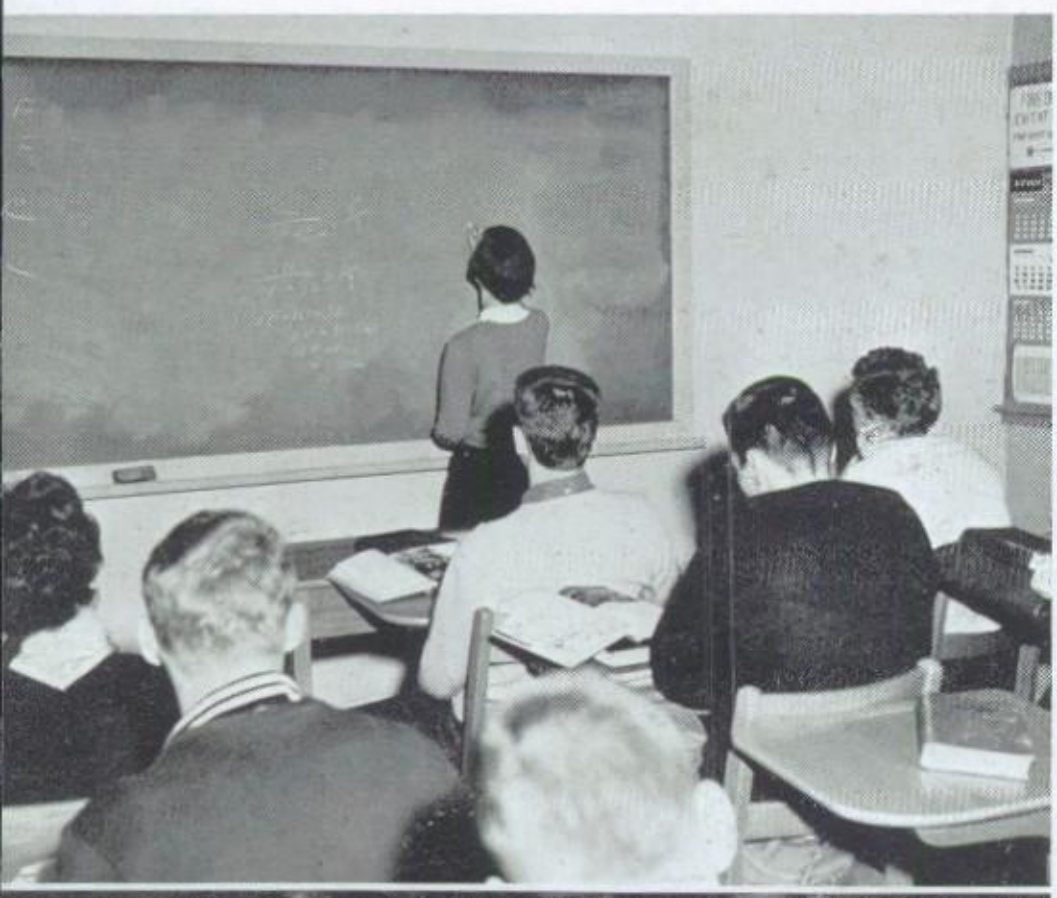
"THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW!" Perhaps these students will be making them in the future. The government can be fascinating and complicated, as is being discovered by these students. They've even been to court . . . to observe of course.

HERE IS AMERICA! But more than the position on the globe do the American History students learn about their country. They relive the early days, two World Wars, depressions, and with Mr. Boone, their teacher, finally reach the present day in their country, America.

MAN HAS COME A LONG WAY since the costumes changed from leopard skins to mink. Man's Achievements Through the Ages is the title of the textbook in which the World History students trace the prosperity of these strange creatures called humans.

SCIENCE

FUTURE PHYSICISTS? It sounds good anyway. Problems, experiments, and a lot of brain work are needed to complete this high school physics course. These students are watching to see if it will really work (the motor that is).

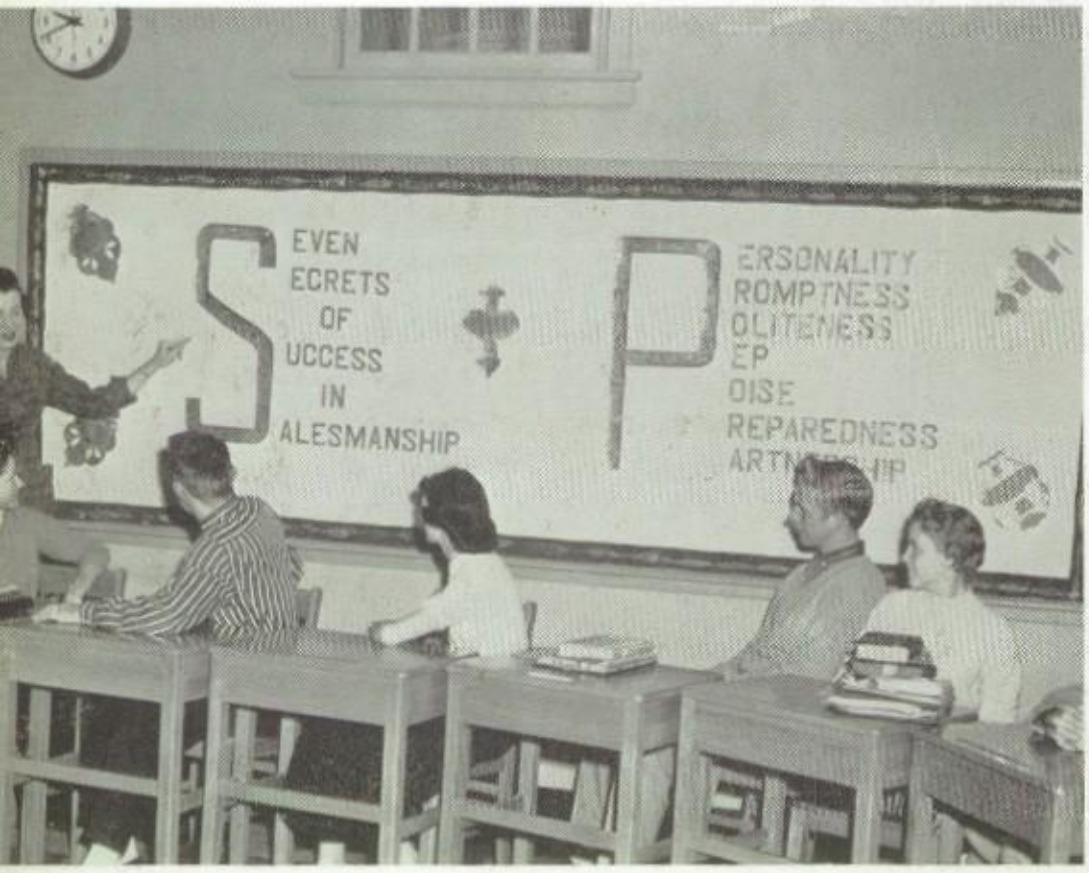


THERE MUST BE A WAY to start. These general science students will surely find it. This course is offered as a full unit and covers everything from working problems to building small heaters. The latter should come in handy on cold days.

THERE IT LAY. Was the operation successful? These biology students have dissected a worm and are trying desperately to locate the different parts. Biology is a required subject for sophomores.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

NO, these boys aren't practicing the drawing of straight lines, but they are studying about drawing and designing in this industrial arts class. A few things this course includes are mechanical drawing, electrical work, and shop math. You can bet these boys will be plenty good at these things.



D. E.

THE WORKING FOLKS. A little study plus ambition paves the way to a bigger and brighter future for these students. D.E. is offered to any student 16 years old or older. The experience gives the students a big boost as they go out on their own to seek greater things.

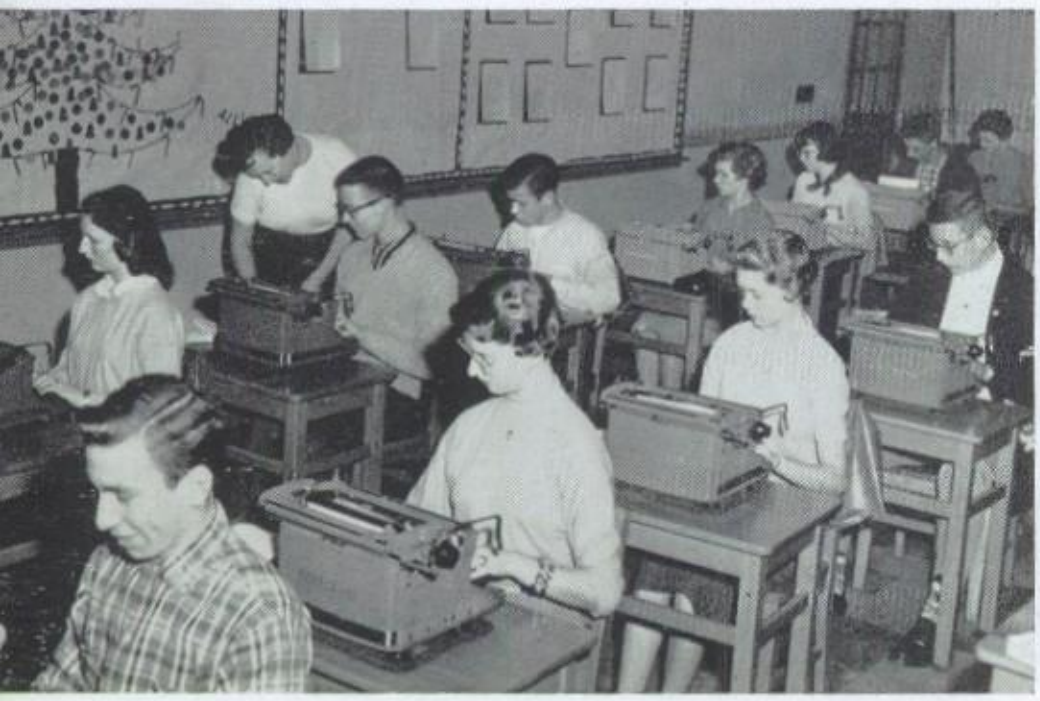
D. O.

JUST FOLLOW THIS CHART and everything should come out right. The D.O. students practice what they learn as well as study. The requirement for this course is the desire to work and do the job right.

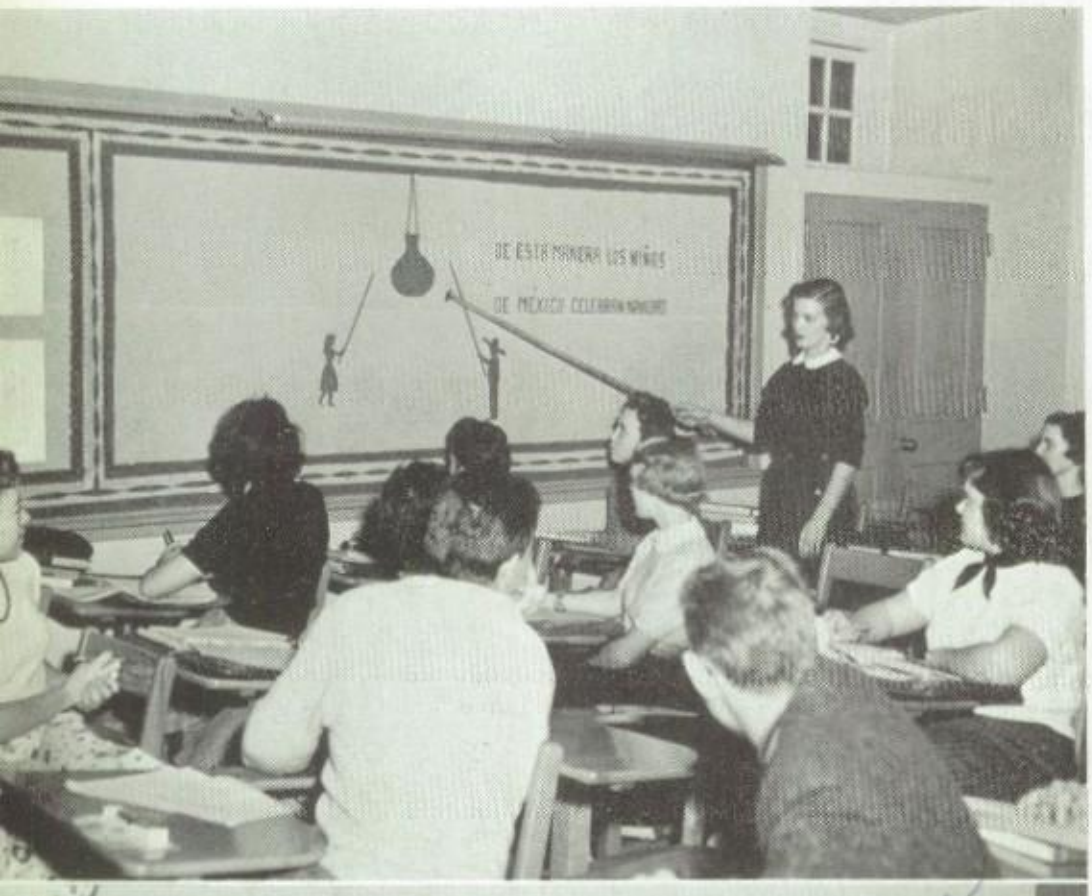
COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

NOT ONLY do these students serve as an aid to the school but they are also acquiring valuable experience. In banking, students handle money deposits, withdrawals, and checking accounts.

"KEEP THEM ROLLING!" Somebody is going to have a test. These seniors serve as the A. L. Brown printing company. This of course is the duplicating department. Morning announcements, tests and other material are mimeographed.



IT MUST BE HERE SOMEWHERE! That's the frantic statement that rushes through the poor Typing I students' minds as they face the little monster that keeps making mistakes. Two years of typing is offered to students plus other commercial courses such as bookkeeping and shorthand.



LANGUAGES

THIS MUST BE A GAME! Most Spanish students will agree that the course isn't exactly a game, but they enjoy it just the same. Just think, some day they may meet a Spaniard and be able to talk to him or even visit Mexico.

"WOULDN'T WE LOVE TO BE THERE," think these students of the French language. Learning about the country, its people, and its language is all just a part of their classes. They also enjoy listening to French records and reading letters from their French pen pals.

LATIN IS SAID TO BE A DEAD LANGUAGE, and the students are ready to be buried with it after completing two years. "I came; I saw; I conquered." These three words are the dream of the students as they enter the class of Latin I and leave the class the final day of Latin II.

HOME ECONOMICS

THE MAGIC TOUCH? This department is certainly the place to acquire it. Sewing is only a small part of the course. Cooking, homemaking, and personal grooming are also included in training the future homemakers.

ART

"ARE THESE STRAIGHT?" The art displays depict the talent of the art classes. Besides giving of their services to the school, they also learn and at the same time have fun doing it. In this course you're good if your pictures look like what they're supposed to be.

SHOP

IT ALMOST MAKES YOU ASK WHAT'S BEHIND THE GREEN DOOR. Projects and more projects keep these boys well occupied in shop. Sheet metal is the main material used, with a little work on wood also.

BIBLE

NOT HAVING A ROOM TO CALL THEIR OWN, the Bible classes study in borrowed quarters. As Miss McMurray reads the story of the Nativity, the students listen intently. Later the course of study may shift from the New Testament to the Old.

ORIENTATION

OFF THEIR ROCKERS? Well, no, not exactly. These students are studying table manners. Orientation acquaints the sophomores with subjects other than the 3 R's. Topics that will face the students throughout life are studied and mastered by this class.

GUIDANCE ASSISTANTS

CAFETERIA

"UM, BOY! This is really the best part of the day." Students look forward to fifth period with empty stomachs. Brown High has an authentic "line-up" at this time. Orchids to the Cafeteria staff who combine their talents each school day to prepare nutritious meals.

B A

"Leaders of the band!" Director Harvey Turner and Drum Major Jimmy Parker are truly that. Mr. Turner has led the band to achieve wide-spread recognition. Jimmy was elected drum major by his fellow band members.

The organization enjoyed a trip to the Lion's Club Convention in Florida during the summer, where it led the North Carolina division of the parade. Besides being an invaluable part of the football games, it has also had several projects and given concerts.

Playing very important parts in the band are people other than those who make music. The majorettes and drum major march in front and add much to the pomp the band always presents. Besides these, there are also the sponsors who spell BROWN.

MIXED CHORUS

Growing in number and in spirit the Mixed Chorus has been a delightful attraction at Brown High School. Under the direction of Mrs. Charles Maydwell, special Thanksgiving, Easter and Christmas programs were presented. Beverly Maulden has helped to lead the vocal group by serving as pianist.

ORCHESTRA

DRAMATICS

Maybe they are amateurs, but scenes such as this one depict the skill and ability needed to portray really comical or dramatic roles.

Night after night of rehearsals, memorizing lines, and searching diligently for the needed properties seem worthwhile to both the cast and the audience when on opening night the play is, not just a success, but a "smash hit."

Brown High's "Unsung Heroes," the Stage Crew, play the all important behind-the-scenes role in all of the dramatic productions, which include everything from assembly programs to really big plays.

Although tired and exhausted from the emotional and physical strain of the performances, the look of satisfaction of a job well done is obvious on the faces of the cast members of "You Can't Take It With You," the Junior Class Play.

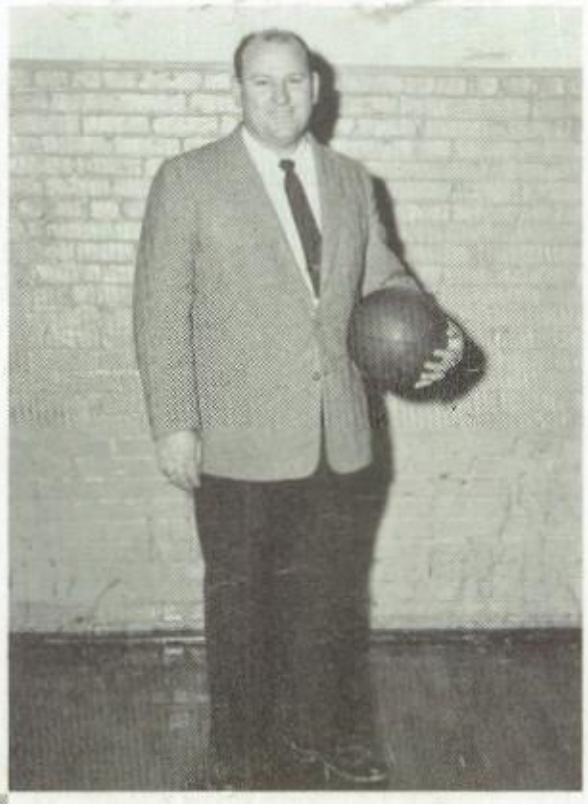
COACHES

Coach Ed Edmiston

Coach Dan Hamrick

Coaches Caldwell and Hall

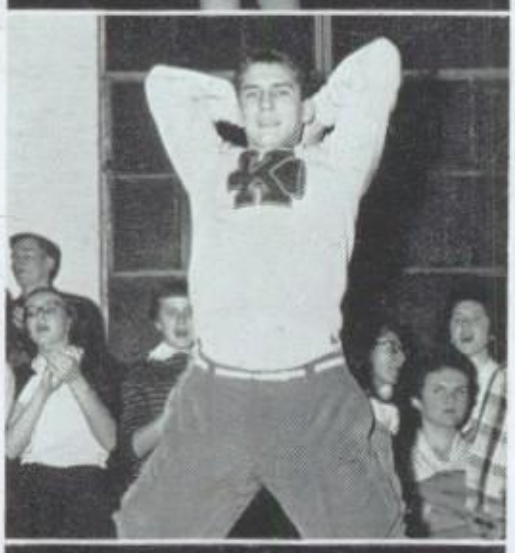


Brown High had four outstanding coaches for the 1956-57 season, in the persons of Ed Edmiston, Dan Hamrick, Vic Caldwell, and Kenneth Hall.

Edmiston leads the football and girls' basketball teams and is also assistant baseball coach. Mr. Hamrick is the assistant football coach and also heads the boys' basketball and baseball teams. Coaches Caldwell and Hall are receiving their coaches' training.

Mr. Caldwell leads the Junior Varsity teams and is doing an excellent job in training the future Varsity players.

Mr. Edmiston, besides his coaching duties, is the physical education teacher at Cannon Junior High. Coach Hamrick is the Driver's Education director and general science teacher at Brown. He is also the dean of boys at Brown High. Coaches Caldwell and Hall are also teachers here.



CHEERLEADERS

Buddy Bost was the head cheerleader at Brown High School this year. The other cheerleaders were: Billie Howard, Bill Wilson, Glenna Goodson, Carl Richardson, Beckie Hinson, and Larry Cauble.

The cheerleading candidates practice about two weeks and learn several yells; then they try out in assembly and the students vote for the best seven. Seven substitutes are also chosen.

BASKETBALL

Brown High seems almost sure of another championship basketball team for the 1957 season. They have won their first five basketball games to put them on top in the South Piedmont Conference race. Two of their toughest rivals, Concord and Albemarle, have already been beaten.

The Wonders have a top scoring combination in the persons of Eldon Petrea and Jerry Poteat, who are the Co-Captains. The team also has a hustling defense capable of bottling up their opponents at crucial moments in a game.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

SEASON'S HIGHLIGHTS

The Wonderettes, rated as a "Dark-Horse" in the 1956-'57 Southern Piedmont Conference basketball race, have proved that a determined team cannot be put down or looked over. As the ALBROKAN went to press, Coach Ed Edmiston and Assistant Coach Kenneth Hall had led their team to a 5 win-0 loss record.

At the rate the Wonderettes are going now, their hopes for a championship team are excellent. Being hit hard by last year's graduation, the team has jumped back to be the surprise squad of the season.

Guards Shelby Ross and Mildred Ketner served as Co-Captains for the 1957 season.

Graduation will again take four of the Wonderette players, Shelby Ross, Clara (Sis) Faggart, Robbie Moss, and Mildred Ketner. But well-qualified girls are left to fill the vacancies and to be molded into players of the future and into a championship team.

Among those seniors returning are: Kenneth Duncan, Bobby Tucker, Kenneth Edwards, Keith Baker, Eugene Massey, Conrad Sloop and Melvin Rape.

Dear Becky,

In once since we been friends I can't seem to find the right words to tell you much your friendship has meant to me. Honest, its just been the greatest! I've really spent most of my happiest times with you. We've had our ups & a few (?) downs, sure, but I think those were just the beginning to a wild time. You're the one (& only) person I can tell my delirious times to & then pour my heart out to when I feel like it. And some of those things - well, you just better never spill 'em!

Weach, you're just "one in a trillion" and I'll never, never forget your wonderful personality - a little witty, too. For helping me when I needed it most, for all our wonderful times, from the bottom of my heart, I want to thank you a million!!?! I only hope there's barrels more of fun to come.

All the love, luck, & success to one of God's greatest who surely deserves the best! And I'm bout to think my favorite "sister" knows how to get it!!?!

Love ya,

Milley
